Biography:

Collingwood was an English author, artist and professor of Fine Arts at University College, Reading.

His father was a watercolour artist and mother was from Switzerland, so from a young age he was often out and about with his father, sketching in the Lake District, North Wales and Switzerland.

He attended University College, Oxford, where he met Ruskin. Ruskin admired his draughtmanship, so Collingwood went on and studied at the Slade School of Art between 1876-1878.

He exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1880.
